

All Saints Hampton
Parish Weekly News – 24 October 2020

Sunday service

Thank you to everyone for observing the tier 2 restrictions last week and not lingering in the church after the service. Paula, Julie and the service team very much appreciate your cooperation in this matter. Unfortunately, it is more of the same this week.

Heating in church

We very much regret that we cannot have the heating on during the service. This is because our heaters are fan-assisted convector heaters, which just move the air round the church. We do not have sufficiently good ventilation in order to use them with the congregation in the building. The heating is on before the service starts, but please be mindful that as the weather gets colder, you may need to wrap up warmer!

A heartfelt thank you to the gardening team, who are doing a tremendous job of keeping the church grounds looking wonderful. Please do take a moment to admire their skills.

Private prayer hour

Advance notice that next week's private prayer hour (Wednesday 28th October) will probably be the last one, now we are approaching the winter months. Any decision to restart will be taken next year.

This year's memorial service for All Souls' Day

As you know, we usually hold a memorial service in the evening of All Saints' Day, to remember the recently departed. We regret that we are unable to hold an evening service this year, but the names of the recently departed will be read out during the intercessions at our morning service.

APCM

Our APCM is taking place on Monday evening. Details will be sent out in a separate email.

Lastly, remember the clocks go back one hour tonight.
